My dear Mrs Rubinstein,

When I spoke to you a little while ago, you were off again to New York, via Geneva. We so much hope that matters will, so to speak, resolve themselves shortly, so that your life will not be so strenuous! Also, we would like to hear good news of the operation to your hand.

I spoke yesterday to Wilfred

Van Wyck's wife*. They had just returned home from a visit to London, where he had (yesterday) recorded a Talk for the BBC on your husband. Apparently the Talk lasted about Twenty minutes, but it could be cut down to less than this. It was thought it would be broadcast in April or May. If I can get a Tape of this I will send it to you.

We look forward to the pleasure of seeing you sometime in London. We may, from now on, be either here or at our home on the river at MARLOW (Buckinghamshire) Telephone MARLOW 4292. Early morning or fairly late in the evening, can generally get us on the Telephone.

With all good wishes

Yours very sincerely,

Robert Dickinson

*: They been down on holiday in Tunis. I gather he was far from well.
