Dear Nella:—

I can find no words to thank you for finding me those tickets! Arthur is always magnificent,

Mrs. William Dexter

but last night he was supreme.

With deepest gratitude

Dear Nella and Victor:-

This is a slightly tardy note of felicitation on the marriage of Your Eva. I am not quite sure why parents are felicitated as I think it is rather a devastating moment for them. For the child, - yes, marriage is a pleasant state of affairs, their feet are at last firmly placed upon the stairs of life, independence is theirs, and dignity, and adventure. But the poor parents, - they are bereft, and suddenly feel dated and old and their job terminated. (However this will not trouble you, you have a flock of younger ones to keep you very busy for a long time!). But there is one bright spot in this wedding business, and that is that each subsequent one becomes easier and takes less toll of ones emotions, so I expect by the time that the last one leaves the nest, it will have become a mere song of happiness and felicity for everyone.

I see and hear on every side that Lotus is playing here on Sunday, Feb. 24th at 5:30. I do hope you will come to tea as usual after the concert for a cup of tea and a restful dinner, and that you will not have to scramble off to the earliest train in the middle of the soup! It must be so exhausting to you after a hard day.

It will be a joy to see you again.
So much love to you both.

Affectionately always,

Constance V. R. Dexter
