Dear Parents,

I'm sorry I haven't got off a letter any sooner, but I am kept pretty busy here. I will immediately get to the subject you're probably most interested in — I'm doing well in all my classes at present — the best so far is Geology, where I have a 100 average. The others aren't exactly that good, but nothing is below 75. If these early tests are an indication of future grades, I think you will be quite satisfied when you come back in November.

You probably know that Eva has met with further delays and the last letter I have had from her bears no indication of a definite arrival date. If I was in her position, I would tell them all to go to hell! You also probably know that she broke off her engagement with Dick — and I, for one, wholeheartedly approve — and when she gets here she won't have any unhappy strings attached across the country.

I am feeling very healthy and the weather is still very nice, golden... leave everywhere and a slightly cool freeze in the evenings.

Please tell me how everything is over there - did you get anything accomplished with the home? - or Daddy getting plenty of relaxation? - and how was the opening concert last Friday. I was thinking about it that night, and if any of my wishes came true it was a success.

Time is going fast, and by the time you have this letter it will be little more than a month before you get back -

Please both of you be good, and remember, bad son as I may be - I love you very much, and am worrying about you all the time - the rest all is well at home, and that the children are happy at school -

Write a short word if you have a chance -

Your loving son -

Paul
