Blessings and Greetings from Jerusalem

JERUSALEM

through the ages has intrigued and inspired writers and painters, poets and musicians.
Library shelves and museum galleries bear witness to this fascination with this unique city.

While the 500,000 people who live in Jerusalem — Jews, Moslems and Christians — share the responsibility for preserving the legacy of millennia, we have been fortunate that many friends throughout the world have shared this challenge.
What more meaningful time than the start of this New Year to express our gratitude and appreciation.
