At 80, Music's First Lady...

Mrs. Lytle Hull (left) is presented a bouquet by Mrs. Arthur Rubinstein during dinner-dance at the St. Regis Roof last night honoring Mrs. Hull's 40 years of service to the Musicians Emergency Fund. Photo left, she chats with Schuyler Chapin, director of the Metropolitan opera during tribute. Mrs. Hull, 80, was Mrs. Vincent Astor when she began her involvement with music in the '20s. Last night she was called the First Lady of music. Bravo!
