Dear Nela:

Alas, April 13th is impossible for the other host, and so the dinner cannot be planned for that evening.

In view of what you have told me, I suppose I'll just have to forget the whole business until the fall or winter. If, however, by any chance you find that Artur has another evening free in April, let me know and I will see what I can do.

With best love to both of you,

As ever,

To answer??
