April 8

Dear Mama –

I've been meaning to write ever since receiving your nice card (with your flower painting on the cover) and of course have procrastinated!

It was really a pleasure seeing you in January and I certainly hope we can spend more time together next time you're here.

I sent you a printed card, but just in case it got lost (the mail here is really terrible) I'm moving to a new apartment on Thursday April 12. The new address is 55 WEST 14TH ST. (APT. 8H). The zip code is the same, and my phone number is the same, 212-627-4059.

I've been working very hard all winter – the market has been slow, and it takes twice the effort to achieve the same results in such circumstances.

Now I'm about to get buried in cartons to pack up my things. I already have the phones connected in the new apt., the carpeting will come in next week and the movers on Thursday. Luckily there is more closet space than I have now, so the squeeze shouldn't be too bad. Also, moving is an opportunity to get rid of unused clothes and just junk in general! I'm not too crazy about 14th Street (where I'm moving to) but I got an apartment that's rent stabilized and the lease in my own name. Right now I'm subletting in a coop that belongs to someone else and therefore can't be permanent unless I buy it, which I'm not prepared to do.

I'm sending this to Paris, assuming if you're not there your mail is forwarded...

Hope all is well with you,

Love,

Paul
