To Paris

Dear Mrs. Rubinstein,

HELLO! And How Are You??? Not having heard from you since you left the hotel so hurriedly I have the miserable feeling that my delaying you those minutes made you still annoyed with me. (he hey)

I enclose a letter for Alina to fill out, as Mrs. Ezra did not know she is with you. The questions are repetitive, as Alina will note, but if she would complete it and return it to Rodbart, Simon & Simel, 19 West 44th Street, N. Y. 10036, the wonderful world of the Social Security Administration might continue to slowly progress.

All your instructions during your stay have been carried out. I will not go into itemized accountings, but the Saks account is OK, the Hammacher Schlemmer finally straightened out, (they had actually lost the first check's "posting") - and do you want the credit to stand, or the check of $96.50 sent to you in Paris? No trouble with the item I returned.)

The refund from the butcher (paid by Mr. Rubinstein in error) was sent, and deposited in his account - $39.63. (I paid for his leather portfolio)

I enclose the needles which finally came from the American Foundation for the Blind. They are filing a claim for the ones you did not receive at the hotel - all of $1.20 worth). Incidentally, I found the needles are OK provided you do not pull too hard on them.

I also enclose the negatives, and the enlargements of Mrs. Coffin in Alina's room, which I intended to bring to you in June.

Do you want any more of the RCA pictures?

Mrs. Smith's secretary hasnothing to do with getting the cookbook now - THESE ENTERTAINING PEOPLE - (which you are in). It is $8.95. Do you still want me to get it, or perhaps you could get it in Paris - published by the Macmillan Company. (Have you seen Count Rasponi's THE INTERNATIONAL NOMADS? Mr. Rubinstein is "extremely well-dressed" and you are in the list of those whose first names have been abbreviated, etc...Aniela - Nela.

Have you heard from Mrs. McKeeby? I sent her the listing of the 3 paintings at Paul's.

As always, I hope your trip went well in Japan, and that you will get some rest in July and August. (!)

My son is in Atlanta, in training, and is teaching high school English at the Junior year level. He seems to like the whole program.

The weather in New York now is similar to what you had here in June, only worse. Day after day of terrific heat.

Love + all the best
